South Charlotte Middle School is focused on increasing student engagement this year. The panorama data show that our SCMS students are reporting less and less engagement in their academics. SCMS school counselors, academic facilitator, and dean of students will be sharing suggestions and asking for ideas to help our students grow in this area. Many parents report that their child says “school was fine” and getting more than that is difficult. We will talk about strategies and conversation prompts to broaden these discussions and foster a new thirst for learning.
